Online tarps superstore MyTarp.com has expanded its inventory to include new high quality building enclosures and building hoarding products.

February 1, 2010 (FPRC) -- Online tarps superstore MyTarp.com has expanded its inventory to include new high quality tarps designed for building enclosure and building hoarding. The new building enclosure and building hoarding tarps are constructed of high quality flame retardant vinyl fabrics including temper tent vinyl and coated vinyl tarp material.

The new temper tent vinyl tarps are extremely strong and resistant to cold temperatures, waterproof, and flame and tear resistant. The combination of qualities makes the new tarp material an ideal choice for outdoor building enclosures and hoarding in harsh environments where there might be strong wind, rain or snow. The temper tent vinyl tarp material can be purchased in standard sizes or made to customer project's exact specifications.

Construction companies have shown extremely positive feedback of the new building enclosure and building wrap products.

"We've constructed some large building enclosure projects with the new temper tent tarps and the feedback is very positive. Companies liked how our products perform in harsh and windy winter conditions," said Steve Gao of MyTarp.com.

With the addition of the new products, MyTarp.com's inventory now includes a full line up of building enclosures and hoarding for all budgets. Customers can choose from flame retardant clear tarps material, mesh netting, poly tarps, mid-range 10 oz coated vinyl, to high quality temper fabric material and 18 oz coated vinyl fabrics, depending on the application.
