

Liquid Vitamins Retailer LiquidWholeFood.com Announces 'Free Shipping February'

LiquidWholeFood.com announced today that they will be offering free shipping for orders totaling a minimum amount now through February 26, 2010.

February 2, 2010 (FPRC) -- Even Punxsutawney Phil, the Pennsylvania groundhog famous for prognosticating when spring will occur, couldn't forecast a PA-based company would be offering free shipping to the world. Yet, as Darryl Schlicher announced this morning soon after Phil's declaration, LiquidWholeFood.com will be offering free shipping for all Life Force product orders meeting certain minimum requirements throughout the month.

Schlicher confirmed that this offer will extend to all markets serviced by the Life Force International Independent Member's website. Effective immediately, all orders from $80-$300 will receive free shipping in the United States. The order price ranges for other countries are as follows: Canada: $90-$340, Australia: $150-$560, and New Zealand: $190-$710. These offers are good through February 26 at 3:30 PM Eastern (US).

The offer originates from Life Force International corporate headquarters. Mr. Schlicher stated, 'We're amazed at the generosity of the offer from Life Force International. The range they gave allows for most products, especially the most popular Life Force products people shop for like Body Balance multiples, Baseline Nutrition [the Body Balance liquid vitamins with OsteoProCare or OsteOmegaCare liquid calcium], or any other product multi-packs including AminoCharge protein powder mix, True Greens probiotic greens drink mix, and FlexeoPlus liquid glucosamine.' As of press time, a quick search engine review showed LiquidWholeFood.com was the only independent member site actively offering the free shipping to its customers.

While the free shipping offer applies to all markets, not all products are available in all markets. Further details about the free shipping promotion can be found on the site at <http://www.liquidwholefood.com/freeshippingfeb.html>.
