The Central Florida Visitors & Convention Bureau announces that guests can save big on Central Florida vacations with a special savings card. The card allows visitors to take part in the many things to do in Central Florida at a discount.

February 4, 2010 (FPRC) -- DAVENPORT, FL - The Central Florida Visitors & Convention Bureau, located in Polk County, FL, announces it is offering visitors a special chance to save throughout 2010 with a 'Passport to Adventure and Savings' card.

The savings card gives visitors the chance to save with more than 120 special offers and is available at the Central Florida's Official Visitor Information Center.

"We're proud of where we live and want our guests to know there are plenty of things to do in Central Florida. Our 'Passport to Adventure and Savings' card is a great way for our visitors to explore our community. With more than 120 different special offers, visitors can take advantage of multiple offers a day during their entire visit," said Mark Jackson, Director with the Central Florida Visitors & Convention Bureau.

With an average yearly temperature of 72 degrees, Polk County in Central Florida is a popular vacation destination. The Central Florida Visitors & Convention Bureau website has a variety of free vacation planning tips and Central Florida attractions that tourists are sure to enjoy.

"Our 'Passport to Adventure and Savings' card makes 2010 the ideal year to take a Central Florida vacation and see all the things we have to offer. Whether you're looking to golf some of our state's most beautiful courses, sample the treats at our famous candy shops or do a little shopping at our unique specialty shops, we're sure you'll have a vacation to remember," said Mark Jackson.
