

March Madness – Musicians Camp Out for Annual Musical Instruments Sales Event

Pianos N' Stuff Music's Annual March Madness event has musicians lined up around the block to take advantage of low-priced guitars, amps, drums, keyboards, recording equipment, and pro-sound gear.

February 24, 2010 (FPRC) -- On Feb. 28 you'll see scores of musicians lined up with coolers and blankets along Freeport Road, camped out in front of Pianos 'N Stuff Music Store in Blawnox, Pa., ready to take advantage of the musical version of "March Madness." Prices will be slashed on the music store's inventory ranging from musical instruments, including guitars, drums and keyboards, to pro-sound recording and DJ equipment, as the music store holds its annual, monthlong sales event.

The event runs from March 1 to March 31 and draws musicians from across the region to the best deals on new and used musical instruments and sound equipment. Pianos 'N Stuff Music Store's March Madness is infamous to musicians who frequent the locally owned Pittsburgh-area music store. The event lasts throughout the month, but March 1 is the store's biggest sales day. Every year on the last day in February, music aficionados brave the winter weather at midnight to be among the first to head in to the "bargain basement" of the retail music store.

The March Madness sale welcomes musicians of every skill level and every genre. "It doesn't matter if you are a teenager in a garage band or a seasoned jazz musician — every type of musician can find a deal," explains Store Manager Justin Sarra.

Pianos N' Stuff Music Store has a large selection of musical instruments, including top brands such as Yamaha, Martin, Gibson, Taylor, Fender and Gretsch, with a wide selection of guitars, bass guitars, drum sets, percussion, keyboards, and other fretted instruments like ukuleles and mandolins. The variety of amplifiers, speakers, guitar accessories, recording, lighting and DJ sound equipment provides something for everyone.

Customers can take advantage of competitive pricing and great customer service even once this big sale is over. Pianos N' Stuff Music offers its customers great deals every month, both at its Pittsburgh location at 468 Freeport Road and online at www.nstuffmusic.com.
