March 30, 2010 (FPRC) -- Ambience Productions announces a call to all photographers. Entries into the third annual Ambience Photography Contest close 30th April 2010. Attracting entries from all over the world in all mediums of photography, this popular online competition is now in its third year.

International - Dedicated to promoting creative talent on a global scale through our website and contests, Ambience Productions showcases some of this talent, introducing the world to new and emerging talented photographers.

The Ambience Photography Contest 2010 is open to all styles of photography; whether it be landscapes, people, pets, places, photographic art and the like. All categories are welcome, as too are entrants from all countries.

Great prize money is on offer for the winners, as well as a downloadable certificate to commemorate the win! Winning entries and the artists' profiles will be published on our site. A press release will be issued announcing the first place winner.

Judging of the contest will be done by Ambience Productions. No preference will be given to a particular category of photography. Our judges produce a diverse variety of photography themselves and are keen to view all types.

Winners receive great prize money – more than our previous contests - as well as a downloadable certificate to commemorate your win! The winning entries and photographer's profiles will be published on our site.

For the first time the prize money is topping the thousand dollar mark and will be allocated for the 5 prize winners. First prize is $500, second prize is $250, third prize is $200, fourth prize is $150 and fifth prize is $100.
