

Artist Recognized in New Book Featuring Design Principles

Stained Glass Artist Patricia Vloeberghs stands out as the only stained glass artist to be featured in this new coffee table book 'Perspectives on Design Georgia' that showcases Georgia's dream homes.

April 29, 2010 (FPRC) -- Patricia Vloeberghs proudly announces her recognition in the publication of Perspectives on Design Georgia that was released on March 25, 2010 during a gala reception held at C Lighting in Buckhead, who can also be found in the book. Perspectives on Design Georgia by Panache is a showcase of Georgia's finest architects, homebuilders, interior designers, artisans and craftsmen wherein they reveal the design secrets they use to create Georgia's dream homes. The book reveals the process of designing that special living space in layers, opening with a variety of architectural design concepts, and the contributions made by various custom home builders. It then progresses through the interior design elements that encapsulate the comforts of artistic accents including fine art; and, then wraps up with earthy landscapes that envelop the home and compliment the entire design.

This coffee table book is a breathtaking collection that offers an insider's 'how to' perspective into constructing a truly exquisite residence by visually introducing us to the top specialists in the trade and showcasing their best work. For those contemplating the construction of a new home or redesigning an intimate space – inside or out – Perspectives on Design Georgia will both inform and inspire.

Vloeberghs Stained Glass Studio, Inc. offers a complete range of leaded glass services. It is nationally renowned for historic restorations, and globally recognized for custom made, one of a kind, signed original stained glass works of art designed exclusively by Patricia Vloeberghs. She also specializes in classic architectural design including Tutor, Edwardian, Deco, Nouveau, Gothic and Victorian styles. Each one of Pat's pieces is unique having been transformed into a work of art with a twist of corporeal creativity that incorporates elements like rondels, lead castings, gold leaf, a slice of agate, or sea shells that will surprise and delight the senses.

Pat Vloeberghs and her stained glass works have been featured in several nationally syndicated magazine publications. Vloeberghs stands alone as the only stained glass artist to be selected for this publication.
