

Active Adult Retirement Community, Solivita, Celebrates 10th Anniversary With Discovery Days

In celebration of their 10th Anniversary, Solivita is holding Discovery Days. They have invited those interested in retirement communities to experience and discover what has made Solivita an exciting option for retirees for 10 years.

May 21, 2010 (FPRC) -- POINCIANA, FL -- Solivita is celebrating 10 years as one of Florida's most exciting active adult retirement destinations. The community offers residents some of the best amenities that ensure a vibrant and active lifestyle for individuals that are 55+.

In celebration of the tenth anniversary, Solivita is inviting anyone interested in learning more about the community to take part in Discovery Days.

"For 10 years, retirees have found Solivita to be one of the best retirement communities in which to live. The excellent floor plan options that are available, amenities that we offer and community events that we hold make Solivita a premier destination for anyone that is 55 and better. Now we are inviting people to come and experience Solivita for themselves with Discovery Days," said Francesca Vereb, Director of Marketing, Solivita.

Discovery Days will be held for three days and two nights and the cost of staying on is only $10 per night, per person. At Solivita guests will stay in one of the villas and participate in a formal sales presentation. The 55 plus community will provide a complimentary lunch and dinner, the use of all of Solivita's recreational facilities, and golf cart for use during the stay.

Solivita is an excellent place to live for those looking for more of an active lifestyle in retirement. In terms of activities and events, the community offers a design studio, 14 community pools including an indoor pool, a village center with restaurants and more, two outstanding championship golf courses and much more. On top of all that which is located within the community, residents find themselves only 20 miles south of Walt Disney World and other major Florida attractions.

The community offers over 23 different floor plans for residents to choose from including 17 model decorated homes priced from the mid $100's. Safety and security is ensured within the community of individuals that are 55+. Year-round sunshine and warm weather combined with the hassle-free small-town atmosphere makes Solivita the perfect place to live out your retirement. Contact them by August 1st and reserve your place for Discovery Days.
