June 2, 2010 (FPRC) -- GRAND PRARIE, TX -- Dallas / Fort Worth trade show exhibits provider Skyline DFW has recently gone through Skyline's rigorous I&D certification process and "passed with flying colors", according to Craig Tedrow, Director of Global Services for Skyline Exhibits.

To achieve the trade show display I&D certification, Skyline DFW was evaluated on its customer relations, standard operating procedures, pre- and post- show follow-up, as well as knowledge of both Skyline's and the trade show industry's best practices.

"The I&D Certification process confirms that trade show display clients exhibiting in North Texas will get the highest level of professionalism and a worry-free experience from Skyline DFW", said Jeff Meisner, President of Skyline DFW Exhibits & Graphics.

Installation and Dismantle is just one of the many exhibit and event services offered by Skyline DFW. They also provide Dallas / Fort Worth Rental Exhibits, Audio/Video, Carpet and Furniture, Shipping, Storage, Repair and Refurbishment.

Meisner added, "From creation of the initial design, through set-up, take-down and all the logistics in between, Skyline DFW meets the needs of our customers for their exhibits and events from start to finish".

Skyline DFW immediately put its I&D certification to the test by successfully implementing 30 exhibits at the recent Windpower 2010 Conference in the Dallas Convention Center. "It took a great deal of planning, teamwork and collaboration", noted Skyline DFW's I&D Manager Frank Garcia, "but it was very gratifying to see so many happy Skyline clients at the same convention".
