

Las Vegas Trade Show Exhibits Are Brighter With The New DesignView Presentation System From Skyline

Skyline Las Vegas has made some changes to the DesignView Presentation System available for rent for trade show displays. Las Vegas trade show installation and dismantle is also available for the system from Skyline.

June 3, 2010 (FPRC) -- LAS VEGAS, NV -- There has been some recent changes to the DesignView Presentation System that is available for rent. The display system for Las Vegas trade show exhibits remains the same great presentation product that Skyline Las Vegas has offered in the past.

The biggest change is behind the scenes, but can make a big difference for trade show displays. Las Vegas exhibitors are now able to rent the Dukane ImagePro 8101H. The new projector that is recommended by Skyline Las Vegas is 25% brighter than the previous projector available.

"Our goal is to provide our customers with the best exhibits for their trade show events. Often lighting can affect the quality of the presentation. Using a brighter projector such as the ImagePro 8101H available from Skyline enables exhibitors to use the system in more venues," said Craig Tedrow, Director of Global Services at Skyline Las Vegas.

The Dukane ImagePro 8101H is the perfect addition to the DesignView Presentation System. The projector has a short throw distances which allows exhibitors to place the projector behind or in front without the hassle of shadows caused by walking in front of it. Skyline customers that would like to purchase the projector can get a negotiated special price. The projector is also available for rental from Skyline at other trade show venues.

The DesignView Presentation System lets exhibitors build their presentation right into the display. The system can project an image of 100 inches diagonally with a projector that is up to 31 inches away from the screen. Exhibitors can have a custom printed graphic design around the screen or choose one of four color borders available from Skyline. The company also offers Las Vegas trade show installation and dismantle services for exhibitors.
