

Get a Free Wireless or Landline Credit Card Terminal, E-commerce and Virtual System with a Merchant Account Sign Up

Empowered Point of Sale, Inc. is offering free POS credit card terminals for new merchant accounts. Their safe, reliable and cheap credit card terminals are used by businesses around the country.

June 16, 2010 (FPRC) -- New merchant accounts are eligible to receive a free wireless or landline credit card terminal from Empowered Point of Sale, Inc. By accepting credit and debit cards, merchants have been able to expand their customer base in a world that is more and more moving away from using cash or checks.

Each of the POS credit card terminals has neither out of pocket costs nor application, activation or service fees. Merchants can sign up and get their terminals fast and free.

"As a business it can be difficult to accept credit cards from customers. Often there are expensive costs for the terminals and high fees attached to startup. At Empowered Point of Sale Inc., we want to help businesses grow and be ready for the future. More consumers do not even carry cash and check books are being left at home. We offer businesses a smooth transition into accepting credit cards with no upfront or out of pocket costs," said Bill Janis of Empowered Point of Sale, Inc..

The company provides merchants with safe, reliable and cheap credit card terminals with free shipping installation and training. If a merchant has any problems with the system, they can contact our 24/7, year-round support team for free! Merchants also have the ability to check the status of their account processing through Global Access Advantage (GAA). Businesses that start accepting credit and debit cards have seen increased profits over time of anywhere from 20 to 30%. Get fast access to the money that will process in days, not weeks, and you can even secure appointments by accepting a deposit over the phone.

In today's competitive market, merchants that do not accept credit cards are losing business to their competition that readily does. To have success as a business, merchants must remove roadblocks that keep browsers from becoming shoppers. Offering the option for customers to use their credit or debit card is a big key to success.
