Forthofer Marketing launches AlabamaLSUTickets.com for college football fans to celebrate this heated SEC rivalry.

June 18, 2010 (FPRC) -- AlabamaLSUTickets.com is new website that has been designed with the needs of Alabama & LSU football fans very much in mind.

Headquartered in Dacula, Georgia, Forthofer Marketing now offers Alabama & LSU fans the ease and convenience of purchasing game tickets online. The site also provides game scores, video highlights from past games, interesting facts and data about teams and coaches, information about the stadiums the games are played in and historical data about the rivalry that includes game scores dating back to 1895!

For Jason Forthofer, the site's creator and designer, and President of Forthofer Marketing, the website was a truly a labor of love. "I have always been a huge college football fan," says Forthofer, "I hope that my site will provide a great place for fans to purchase tickets and find out more information about this classic SEC rivalry."

Alabama & LSU football match-ups are always an exciting event and Alabama LSU Tickets provides a great venue for purchasing tickets. There are links that will take you to the type of tickets you are looking for and seats to games are offered in a range of price points. AlabamaLSUTickets.com allows fans to follow their team throughout the season if they choose to.

The site has a simple layout and is easily navigated and it is clear to any visitor of AlabamaLSUTickets.com that a lot of thought was given to the needs and interests of Alabama & LSU fans.

So brush up on your history, watch some videos and most importantly - reserve your seat at the game!
