

Martial Arts and Self Defense Enterprise Announces Warehouse Liquidation Sale Of Vitamin Inventory

Captain Chris Pizzo, owner of the martial arts and self defense enterprise Close Combat Training, has announced a special 'insiders only' discount the company's entire vitamin inventory.

June 17, 2010 (FPRC) -- From July 4th through Labor Day 2010, or until inventory is sold out, prices on all Close Combat Nutrition inventory will be slashed by up to 50% as part of the company's 'empty the warehouse fire-sale.'

The summer vitamin sale is an 'insider only' event. The cut-rate discounts are only available to current customers of the Close Combat Training and Close Combat Nutrition. Those who purchase the martial arts and self defense training program, Close Combat Training, between now and July 4th are also privy to the sale.

Close Combat Nutrition is heralded for its military grade vitamins designed to optimize different body functions. Four vitamin formulations will be available for purchase at up to 50% off during the summer fire sale:

- * CC-369 Ultimate Omega (cardiovascular support)
- * CC-SE Regenerating Enzymes (neuro-muscular support)
- * CC-10 Organics (immune support)
- * CC-750 Reconstruction Agent (joint and muscle tissue support)

The reason behind the sale marks a strategic move for the company and new opportunities for serious vitamin enthusiasts. Close Combat Training has recently announced the sale of its vitamin supplements division (Close Combat Nutrition) to a major nutrition company. The nutrition company will resume production the CCN vitamin formula next year, but under it's own label.

Owner Captain Chris Pizzo made the decision to sell the CCN division in an effort to give more people access to the high quality supplements. According to Pizzo, the new partner can provide better pricing, wider distribution, and more choices to our customers.

"Inventory is extremely limited -- and when it's gone, it's gone. This sale is essentially it for people to get their hands on military-grade supplements in the near future," said Captain Chris Pizzo. Those who wish to take advantage of the sale are encourage to act quickly. Once the inventory is liquidated these military grade vitamins will not be available on the market again until 2011 when they are reintroduced under the new label.

About Close Combat Company:

The Close Combat Company, LLC. is comprised of two divisions: Close Combat Nutrition (CCN) and Close Combat Training (CCT). The Close Combat Nutrition division specializes in high-end military grade vitamin supplements. Close Combat Training division is the world leader in self defense training, health, well-being and the adventure lifestyle. Their goal through their training is to educate everyone on the truth about martial arts and self defense and to provide the information they need to defend their family and freedom.

Contact Information

For more information contact Heather Campanile of Close Combat Company
(<http://www.closecombatcompany.com>)
866-966-9705

Keywords

martial arts

self defense

Chris Pizzo

You can read this press release online here