July 26, 2010 (FPRC) -- NORTH MANKATO, MN – No two brides are the same. From traditional and classic to modern and chic, every woman has a different style and personality she wants to shine through on her wedding day.

Brides can now express themselves with the most recent unique wedding invitation collection from Pear Tree Greetings, a top manufacturer of personalized cards.

"Once a bride chooses a wedding theme, every bit of her wedding day should showcase some part of that theme, bringing her style full circle. And the wedding invitations should be no different. Pear Tree Greetings' latest line of wedding products features top, unique trends that start at the invitation and trickle through to the labels and thank you cards. We've made being stylish very simple," said Liwanag Ojala, president, Pear Tree Greetings.

The latest styles include everything from wood-grain designs and photo-framed layouts, to pocket invitations and "you pick" color choices.

Complete with wedding invitations, wedding address labels, wedding favor stickers and wedding thank you cards, each style carries a theme through. Whether a bride chooses to utilize all the elements of a specific style in a collection or just use a piece or two, Pear Tree Greetings has made its wedding line versatile.

Not only is the collection of unique wedding invitations versatile and stylish, but it's also affordable. However, just because it's affordable doesn't mean it lacks in quality. All of Pear Tree Greetings products are printed on heavy 110-pound cardstock and feature superior printing.

"With our newest line of wedding stationery products, Pear Tree Greetings has delivered again on our promise on being fresh, affordable and uniquely you," said Ojala.
