

Back Bedroom Business Becomes Beauty Bonanza.

Andrew and Charlotte gave up their careers in the UK Armed Forces and an insurance partnership to concentrate on building their own empire in the beauty and skin care industry.

Hampshire, UK, 31 July 2010: Andrew and Charlotte Mills have built a beauty empire, from the comfort of their back bedroom. With a high quality range of beauty and skin care products, all made with pure Jade, they have created an international business that has developed its own niche.

Andrew Mills, a retired naval officer, explained, "When I met Charlotte around 6 years ago, I knew very quickly we would always be together. We both had very different careers and so we needed a business that would allow us a certain quality of life and not to be apart. The success we have now created with Nephria and our launch on national television has been a mad whirl of fun, adventure and wonderful experiences. We have travelled around the world, made some great friendships and now we are seeing a return for the late nights and hard work we have both shared."

Sourced in the Orient, the Nephria range contains some of the most innovative and beneficial ingredients available, including the fabled pure Jade, Myrrh, Green Tea Extract, Glycerin and Hyaluronic Acid. The Nephria Jade Serum is their latest development and is already a sell out.

Charlotte Newbert, who founded Nephria, added, "I always knew there was more to my future than the world of insurance broking. The desire to work with Andrew gave me massive motivation to form a business, find a range of products and then develop them to satisfy my female tastes. In Nephria I have produced a range that I love, my family and friends loves and, most of all my customers love. The feedback in the form of E Mails, telephone calls and testimonials is amazing and gives me all the drive I need to keep producing more."

Nephria is one of the best kept secrets of the beauty industry. With the major benefits and mystery of the pure Jade, the products work together in a twice daily beauty regime, from cleansing and exfoliating to nourishing, moisturising and protecting the complexion, ultimately to produce dramatic and long lasting results. Nephria products are, in effect, multi vitamins for the skin and complexion.
