

Aging Outside the Box® Syndicated Radio Show & Barry Peterson, CBS News Emmy Award-winning News Correspondent

Celebrity Radio Talk Show Host Shirley W. Mitchell interviews Emmy Award-winning CBS News Correspondent, Barry Peterson as they discuss his gut-wrenching journey and his equally tormented decision to emerge on the other side of depression and guilt. The book is part memoir and part open discussion of what a relationship means when a spouse is taken away by such an insidious disease.

In a career spanning more than three decades with CBS News, Barry Peterson has reported on everything from wars and natural disasters to Paris fashions and the return of American Jazz to Shanghai, China. His stories have been datelined from virtually every continent. His coverage of the Bosnian war and the courage of men, women and children under fire in Sarajevo earned him one of his Emmy Awards for "The Spirit of Sarajevo" on CBS Sunday Morning. His war reporting includes being imbedded with US soldiers in Iraq and the US military's Operation Restore Hope aimed at easing famine in Somalia. While working as the Moscow Bureau Chief and Correspondent, he covered Mikhail Gorbachev's summit trips to Cuba, Malta, East Berlin, Washington, DC, and China, as well as the visit to the then-Soviet Union by President Ronald Reagan. Before joining CBS News in 1978, he worked as a reporter for several major American newspapers including the Miami Herald, the Milwaukee Journal, the Omaha World-Herald and as a stringer for TIME Magazine. He also worked as a reporter and anchor for WCCO-TV, the CBS owned station in Minneapolis-St.

Paul, MN, and for WITI-TV in Milwaukee, WI. When based in San Francisco, he did the first network news story on a then-new disease, Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS). He has been honored numerous times for his writing and reporting, and shared both an Alfred I. duPont-Columbia University Award and a George Foster Peabody Award as part of CBS Radio's coverage of the democracy uprising at Tiananmen Square.
