

Local Mankato Company Growing; Announces Further Expansion

SEOwhat.com providing services both nationally and locally and due to its fortunate and continued success, the company is expanding.

August 12, 2010 (FPRC) -- Mankato, MN.—SEOwhat.com, a local internet marketing, web design, and search optimization company, that specializes in both online and offline optimization is growing. Due to its fortunate and continued success, the company is able to expand.

SEOwhat.com, a company started in Huntington Beach, California, before moving to Mankato, MN, has been able to provide SEO needs to its clients both on a local and national level. 'Our company has been fortunate in its growth,' shares Catherine Seven, SEO expert and company founder, 'we not only assist local companies in internet marketing, but we have also gained the capacity to meet the needs of our clients nationwide.'

Due to its continued expansion, SEOwhat.com Inc. has been able to sustain the growing client base with the hiring of several Mankato area employees. In addition, SEOwhat.com is the only Mankato SEO company to have a store front. With this, clients are able to have a personal experience by stopping into the office location and meet all staff members that contribute to their company's success.

SEOwhat.com continues to provide its clients with optimal service. With added employees, clients can expect a one-on-one personal atmosphere, and continued successful internet marketing for local and nationwide businesses. 'Mankato is my childhood home, and it's great to have my company prosper in the place that I grew up.'
