

MyTarp.com Introduces New Canopy Replacement Top To Its Product Line

MyTarp.com, a website that sells all types of tarps launches a new canopy replacement top to its product line. The company sells other types of tarps, including truck tarps, boat covers and more.

August 17, 2010 (FPRC) -- MARIETTA, GA -- MyTarp.com, the Internet's premier source for all types of tarps, announces it has added a new canopy replacement top to its already extensive product inventory.

The replacement canopy works on standard high peak canopy frames. Each canopy has built-in UV protection on both sides to maximize the effect from dangerous UV rays. The canopies come in heavy-duty vinyl PVC, white poly or silver poly.

"Now there's no need to replace an entire canopy just because the cover needs to be replaced. Our replacement canopies are expertly sized to fit a 10' by 10' canopy frame. We even include room for the peak so our canopies are large enough to cover the entire frame. Whether you're replacing a tarp that has torn or just need to upgrade from the standard model that came with your canopy frame, we're sure we have a canopy to meet your needs," said Annie Yang of MyTarp.com.

MyTarp.com also sells a number of other tarps, including specialty tarps and covers, like boat covers and truck tarps. Truck tarps are made from heavy-duty vinyl coated polyester and are specially designed with heat sealed vinyl seams and double lock stitching. Truck drivers driving through Florida, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina and Tennessee can pick up their own truck tarps at the truck tarp warehouse in Marietta, Georgia.

Anyone looking to buy a tarp can be assured that they are receiving the best possible price. MyTarp.com's products are always priced low so customers don't need to worry about missing a limited time sale.

"We're so confident that we offer customers the best prices on our tarps that each of our tarps come with a low price guarantee. If you find the same tarp elsewhere for a lower price, just let us know and we'll match it. We can do this because we have the largest selection of tarps anywhere. Whether you need field covers to keep the rain away, privacy fence screening, hay tarps or leak diverter tarps, we're sure we can help. And, if you don't find exactly what you need, MyTarp.com offers custom-sized tarps and even tarp fabric by the yard. We're here to help, no matter what you need," said Yang.
