August 20, 2010 – Those who are searching for the best teas have a reason to celebrate. The popular online destination TeaLux, which is based in Montreal, Canada, has introduced a wide range of excellent tea flavors. This professional tea enterprise comes with 100% fresh and natural variety of teas that provides immense pleasure while drinking and offers health benefits. It is beneficial to buy tea online from this store because of premium quality, best wholesale prices, free samples with each order, and domestic and international shipping without any cost.

Many customers and tea lovers find this tea store as the best destination to find their desired varieties of tea. Those who buy tea online from this store get the best value of money because the wholesale price factor allows them to save.

The popularity of this online store is increasing also because of its assurance to provide high quality products. The tea leaves are fairly traded and grown substantially. The preparation process goes through several quality standards so that the output remains outstanding. A spokesperson of the company revealed that for them the quality and customer satisfaction matters most.

TeaLux brings innumerable varieties for the shoppers to buy tea online. The buyers can select from different varieties of natural flavors such as black tea, green tea, Oolong tea, flavored white tea, jasmine tea, herbal tea, chai tea, rooibos tea, and blooming flower tea. High quality tea bags can also be purchased from this online store. In addition, there are top class accessories such as teapots and tea sets of cast iron, ceramic, porcelain, glass, thermos, etc.

On top of that, the online store of TeaLux is easy to use. The buyers can easily search for their preferred tea products and compare the price and quality standard. Apart from supplying excellent quality of teas online, TeaLux has also opened a new shop on the city of Chateauguay. Buyers can also visit the retail store and shop for a whole range of flavors.
