Survivalist Resource Providing Information on How to Live Off the Grid, Concentrating on your personal liberties and how best to protect them

August 24, 2010 (FPRC) -- There are few things more important to our country than protecting our freedom yet that firm belief often faces obstacles within our own borders. While we send our brave troops out to foreign lands to defend the very beliefs our nation was founded on we are rooted in an internal battle to honor the “unalienable rights” of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness outlined in the Declaration of Independence.

As political parties pick apart the very foundation that built this country the rights of the everyday man have become more and more compromised, threatening to destroy an individual’s ability to live free from the burdens of bad policies, corporate greed, social upheaval and global dilemmas.

While the fight to protect our rights is certainly great, there are those fiercely independent individuals who have placed their freedom and the safety of their families above all else and will do whatever is necessary to maintain their way of life. These “survivalists” have recognized the uncertain future and are willing to establish their own self-sustaining way of life that keeps them free from the very issues that threaten their way of life.

To assist these patriotic survivalists in establishing and maintaining their independence “Off The Grid News” has launched their website, providing these individuals with informative articles and helpful tips on everything from securing and preparing a “crisis garden” and canning and food storage to alternative energy options and emergency preparedness planning and crisis response.

Not only do these articles provide a virtual “how-to” in preparing for and responding to an emergency, they also cover everyday issues in areas like finance, politics, energy and self-defense.

Because these articles have been written by dedicated survivalists much of the information has escaped the “mainstream media,” concentrating instead on your personal liberties and how best to protect them.

In addition to their website, Off The Grid News also distributes a weekly newsletter that provides valuable advice concerning the necessary steps you need to take to ensure your safety in the time of crisis as well as an in-depth analysis of current political and economic issues that affect us all.
