

My Green Roof Website Redesign

Providing quality roofing to last generations and entering social media to provide latest information

August 30, 2010 (FPRC) -- Hutchinson, MN., –My Green Roof, a proud member of the Larson Family of Companies, has announced a new redesigned website. Joining forces with SEOwhat.com and Pike Graphics, My Green Roof website provides Galleries, Product Information, and up-to-date Specials. The new site facilitates an aesthetic appeal and creates a user friendly environment. In addition to the newly designed website, the company has entered into the social media world. By having Facebook and Twitter pages, the company now provides the opportunity for faster and easier customer interactivity.

My Green Roof offers an assortment of metal roofing styles, and a variety of different colors to choose from. Styles range from the popular Granite Ridge panel to the Canyon Shake, NB Tile, and Barrel Vault to name a few. By providing quality products that will last generations, and experienced craftsmanship, My Green Roof obtains high customer satisfaction. When in comparison, traditional roofs do not outlast the strength and durability of a metal roof from My Green Roof. In addition to this, My Green Roof offers non-prorated warranties by Gerard Steel Roofing System and shares that it will be the last roof that'll ever need to be purchased.

By launching Facebook and Twitter pages, My Green Roof is committed to customer service by providing continued updates on the latest regarding the company's site, the newest items to showcase, and running specials. "Since 1967, the Larson Family of Companies have always made commitments to our customers the number one priority in our daily business routine," shares, President of Larson Family of Companies, Doug Kephart, "we see that same commitment from SEOwhat.com. We are proud to have partnered with an industry leader of this magnitude."

The SEOwhat.com Company has provided My Green Roof with the engineering and programming of their site. In addition, Pike Graphics is responsible for the aesthetically appealing website redesign. Both companies combined have brought Larson Family Companies a user friendly and inviting website to engage its users.

About My Green Roof and Larson Family Companies

My Green Roof is a part of the Family of Larson Companies which are composed of Gerard Steel Roof System and Larson Roofing Solutions. The family of companies has been the premier builder and remodeler in central and southern Minnesota since 1967. With dedicated and experienced employees, Larson Family Companies promises hardworking craftsman and qualified sub contractors.

The Larson Family of Companies has served business and home remodeling customers in central and southern Minnesota since 1967. Founded by Richard Larson, the company originated as a new construction and remodeling business; currently it is known for building the premier homes in the area.

Larson Family of Companies continues to design and build the highest quality homes as it has for the past 42 years. Over time, the company has added quality remodeling products to their business in order to provide and offer custom remodeling options.

###

Contact Information

For more information contact Doug Kephart of My Green Roof (<http://www.mygreenroof.com/>)
320-587-5555

Keywords

My Green Roof

Galleries

Product information

You can read this press release online here