

TheLifeInsuranceGroup.com announces Family Life Insurance Solution

One Life Insurance Policy, One Premium, Family Financial Protection from TheLifeInsuranceGroup.com. Protection for your entire family

December 23, 2010 (FPRC) -- TheLifeInsuranceGroup.com announces a new offering designed to make the process of purchasing family life insurance much simpler. The company's new Family Life Insurance Solutions combines many popular life insurance offerings into a single policy. This new coverage offering helps to ensure that every family member is cared for at a price that is more affordable than through purchasing multiple individual policies. Rather than managing separate policies, families are able to obtain life insurance coverage in a single policy. For families issued age from zero to 49.

"Families have a hard enough time keeping up with all their obligations. TheLifeInsuranceGroup.com has streamlined at least one family task - selecting life insurance coverage - by offering one policy to cover an entire family," says Jonathan Askew, TheLifeInsuranceGroup.com President, "TheLifeInsuranceGroup.com has a way to provide family coverage that is secure, affordable and meets the needs of today's busy families."

Wide-Ranging Needs, Complete Coverage

Although all life insurance policies provide a death benefit, no policy can be "one size fits all." That's why some policies offer additional benefits that can be tailored to meet the needs of you and your family.

What can life insurance do? It can provide financially for your loved ones in the event of a sudden death. Build cash value that can be used during your lifetime for any purpose that you choose such as starting a business or sending the kids to college. Relax knowing you own a policy that will protect you and your families' peace of mind.
