

International Machine Show Sets Out its Stall in Taipei World Trade Center

DirectRooms.com divulges that the world's leading machine manufacturers will be heading to the Taipei World Trade Center in March.

January 23, 2011 (FPRC) -- The aim of International Machine is to take advantage of the leading fair at which to see the latest developments in machine tools, varieties of welding and cutting tools and equipment, the latest in industrial robots, and much more besides.

Over 30,000 professionals working in machine building, construction equipment, tool and mould making, fixture design, steel and light-metal construction, and a wide variety of users will be coming together to share development in tools, research and production. It is a fantastic networking opportunity for business leaders to make plans for future sales.

Taipei city is the fourth largest city in Taiwan, which makes for a great place for the conference delegates to congregate. Taipei as the economic, cultural and political centre of Taiwan. The wide variety of hotels Taipei has to offer more caters for the varied needs of delegates and offer an interesting array of high standard accommodation. Entertainment facilities are many and delegates will find plenty of relaxing and inspiring places to eat and drink.

The interesting national museum has one of the biggest collections of rare Chinese artefacts in the world. It's a city on a global scale and a large industrial hub. Transport links are strong and visitors have a choice of trains and high speed links to get them about.

Lek Boonlert, marketing head of DirectRooms said: 'Taipei is a well equipped modern city which will impress the delegates with its great facilities and attractive buildings.'
