

Financial Spread Trading Site Clean Financial Introduces a Range of Improvements to Celebrate its Fifth Birthday

Financial spread trading site CleanFinancial.com is celebrating its fifth birthday with a range of improvements to their site. The service, which was set up five years ago this month, has added spread trading company City Index to their comparison tables and has introduced a brokers' tips section.

February 17, 2011 (FPRC) -- CleanFinancial.com, the spread trading website, is celebrating its fifth birthday by launching a range of improvements to their site. The service, which was set up five years ago this month, says it is marking the occasion with a series of upgrades.

The site has added financial spread trading provider City Index to their comparison tables. The tables, which already include firms such as FinancialSpreads.com and InterTrader, offer information such as spread sizes and minimum stakes on a range of popular spread trading markets. CleanFinancial.com say they are pleased to have made such improvements.

"We're delighted to have added City Index to our comparison tables. They are one of the biggest spread betting companies with over 25 years of experience in the sector. We have also added a City Index review, and we believe these two additions will give our users added value by increasing the number of companies which we compare," said Adam Jepsen, spokesperson for the site.

"However adding City Index is just one of the improvements that we have introduced. We have also added a spread betting tips section which has already proved to be very popular with our users."

The tips section is updated daily and offers a comprehensive list of stocks that have been either upgraded or downgraded by brokers. Downgrades can be particularly useful as with spread betting you can speculate on share prices to fall. Consequently, you can make a profit, or a loss, from falling share prices as well as rising ones.

Existing services offered by <http://www.cleanfinancial.com/> include free spread betting news, trading examples, spread betting company reviews, the latest spread betting offers and details on a range of trading accounts.

"We understand the competitive nature of the market in which we operate and we are constantly reviewing our customer feedback in order to update and upgrade the site," Jepsen added. "Our aim is to be the one-stop site for investors who are looking to spread bet on the financial markets."

About Clean Financial

www.cleanfinancial.com/ is a financial website that provides the latest news, information and data on forex, equities, commodities and stock market indices. The information is predominately focussed on spread betting, however can be used by speculators investing in a broad range of financial markets.

Financial spread betting carries a high level of risk and you may lose more than your investment. Ensure that spread betting matches your trading objectives as it might not be suitable for all investors. Before you trade, make sure that you fully appreciate the risk. Ensure that you only spread bet with capital that you can afford to lose. Obtain independent financial advice where required.

Contact Information

For more information contact Adam Jepsen of Clear Investor Limited
(<http://www.clearfinancial.com/>)
++44 (0) 20 7234 9124

Keywords

spread betting

City Index

InterTrader

You can read this press release online here