

New Web Site Perfectpetfinder.com Matches People with Rescue Pets

Perfectpetfinder.com is a unique online service dedicated to matching people who are looking for a particular breed of dog or cat with an adoptable rescue.

February 22, 2011 (FPRC) -- Members of the animal kingdom bring laughs, love and joy into the lives of their human companions, but finding the right pet with which to share your life can be a confusing, frustrating and time-consuming endeavor. Perfectpetfinder.com (<http://www.perfectpetfinder.com>) simplifies the process by matching people who are looking for a particular breed of dog or cat with the right companion.

Founded by Leslie Jaye and launched nationally in February 2011, this dedicated organization searches the shelters and rescue groups in each client's geographic area for the perfect pet pal. Some of the animals are mixed breeds, others are full-blooded, but they are all spayed or neutered and up-to-date on all their shots. The service saves clients time, money and stress by locating the desired pet based on user-submitted information.

Visitors to <http://www.perfectpetfinder.com> create their Perfect Pet Profile, a simple questionnaire that explores the potential adopter's pet preferences, home environment and lifestyle. Based on those answers, perfectpetfinder.com searches for the most compatible pet and recommends the best candidates. The adopters review each animal's photo(s) and history and learn about its personality. Each shelter's fee, adoption criteria and contact information are provided. Application forms are often included and can be filled out online for convenience.

Perfectpetfinder.com charges a one-time fee of $99, which is fully refundable if it fails to find the ideal pet or if the adoption isn't successful. Once clients pick the perfect candidate, they simply visit the shelter or rescue agency to meet their new best friend and bring him or her home. Pet parents are responsible for paying the rescue group's adoption fee and for complying with its policies and procedures.

Perfectpetfinder.com is dedicated to matching people that can provide permanent, appropriate and loving homes with the right companion animal. Through their website and Perfect Pet Blog, (<http://blog.perfectpetfinder.com>) they educate the public about pet adoption and other animal-related subjects. The organization can be contacted by phone at 1-888-443-5250, or by email at support@perfectpetfinder.com. For more information, visit their website at <http://www.perfectpetfinder.com>.

About Perfectpetfinder.com

Perfectpetfinder.com was founded in 2009 and is independently owned. The company's mission is to create public awareness about the millions of specific-breed and pedigreed pets living in shelters and foster homes and to encourage adoptions by simplifying the search process.
