

Flight Games Website Unveils The Perfect Filler Between Real World Flying

Flight Games-Adventures in Flight was launched to provide Gamers an in depth review of the latest Flight Games software. The website will appeal to new and veteran Flight Sim fans alike. The Games are not your typical Arcade style, but real Flight Simulation

March 27, 2011 (FPRC) -- Kristin Cagna Adventures launched a brand new Flight Games website, with the purpose of providing reviews of the latest and greatest online flight games. The first product featured is ProFlight Simulator, software that will appeal to aviators and gamers alike. New student pilot Roy Burton said, 'Wow, for a new pilot like me, this is the perfect filler between real world flying. With all of the places to fly, it would take me months!'

Flight Games offers consumers an honest review. They highlight the technical and aesthetic features in airplane games software. For instance, ProFlight Simulator simulates real life flying with accurate worldwide scenery. Featuring 20,000 of the world's real airports and 120 plus different planes. The game accurately maps the solar systems and weather patterns are accessed in real time to deliver true to life weather in every area of the globe. The large selection of planes allows the user to experience all types of aircraft including the 1903 Wright Flyer, Concorde, F16s, Migs, Airliners and more. The worldwide scenery includes all lakes, rivers, roads, cities, towns etc. Flier, Kevin Jimenez said, 'I've recently gained my PPL so I wanted a life like simulator. I was really impressed with ProFlight Simulator. The setup of the aircraft is exactly what you see on an actual plane. They have data for thousands of airports and I was impressed with the accuracy of the visuals.'

The ProFlight Simulator Review features a comprehensive pros and cons analysis. The cost of flight simulation software needs to be justified with performance. Consumers need to know what to expect in terms of functionality, aesthetics, features, technical options and customer support. Flight Games review site meets the consumer's needs and more. The website offers screen shot photos of the software, featuring actual flight simulation. In addition, there are videos to show the reader exactly what it is like to fly with the software. For more information visit: <http://www.flight-games.org>

Contact Information

For more information contact Kristin Cagna of Flight Games (<http://www.flight-games.org>)
828-669-0264

Keywords

Flight Games

Airplane Games

ProFlight Simulator Review

You can read this press release online here