

New Book Entitled 'The Discovery' Released this Month; Non-Fiction, Supernatural Drama Set to Compete With Today's Hottest Novels

'The Discovery' is a short story compilation covering a variety of genres such as supernatural fiction and non-fiction, historical fiction and non-fiction and contemporary drama based on the lives of real women.

May 16, 2011 (FPRC) -- Launch of 'The Discovery', a book of short stories featuring fiction and non-fiction; contains eight different stories about women who get everything they want in life (through serendipity, or the supernatural) and keep it!

Geared mainly toward teenage women, 'The Discovery' is sure to captivate men and women of all ages, races and cultural backgrounds. As well as dealing with typical problems of the day, it also teaches family values and coping skills for real life circumstances.

The book's themes include; school life, life on the job, family life, friendship, making life changing decisions, surviving crises and handling emotional situations. Parents will be pleased to know that the book is also educational and written to increase teen's vocabulary.

Fact is stranger than fiction, and tipping the scales are the supernatural titles! Readers will experience the thrills and dangers along with these real heroines as they under-go some of the most bizarre happenings ever recorded! The sources of these events will be outlined in depth on the author's blog where viewers can submit their questions and comments. The book's purchasing links are on both the blog page and website.

About the author:

Angela Lane lives in the Bahamas and works with teens on a daily basis. She enjoys research, reading, exercising and socializing. As an experienced writer and avid public speaker, Angela challenges people to realize their goals and make them a reality.

Contact Information

For more information contact Angela Lane of The Discovery (<http://TheDiscoveries.yolasite.com>)

Keywords

Supernatural

You can read this press release online here