

Boundary Bathrooms Showcase at Grand Designs Live Show In London

The UK's exclusive luxury online bathroom retailer Boundary Bathrooms headline the bathrooms section at the recent Grand Designs Live Show hosted in London this month

June 21, 2011 (FPRC) -- Grand Designs Live London is the number 1 consumer show exhibition for self build, design, interiors and innovation for the home and garden. Kevin McCloud was there to cut the ribbon that officially opened the show, letting the gathered crowds enter.

Boundary Bathrooms were the stars of the show in the Bathroom and Plumbing sector, demonstrating a lot of new and innovative products from top brands such as Bette, Bristan, Duravit and Grohe.

With an exclusive own brand range of luxury baths, basins, saunas and bathroom accessories, Boundary stole the section with impressive products and product advice. There was an increased interest in the accessible bathrooms section for the mobility impaired, Boundary Bathrooms offering was accessible yet elegant which a lot of other companies have not managed to offer yet.

Neil Dent, CEO of Boundary Bathrooms commented : "Now with over 500 exhibitors covering interiors, gardens, home improvements, self-build, renovations, technology and shopping there really is something for everyone, and we were at the top of our game in the bathrooms sector this year. We were featured on Stand Numbers K157 and K53 providing our expert product knowledge and details on various parts of our business ranging from Wow-Factor wet rooms, Home Spa Bathrooms to Hi tech bathroom products"

With UK still struggling to pull itself out of the recession, consumers are still deciding that improving rather than moving home is the way forward. The interest in home spa bathroom products and wet rooms increased this year, with various new products being exhibited. Not to mention the various products at the other end of the scale for creating an extra bathroom in a property with space saving the number 1 aim.

Jo Butterworth, Marketing Manager at Boundary Bathrooms added : "We have attended the Grand Designs Live Show several times now, and it is a great platform to showcase our new and innovative products to the public. We received a lot of interest in the products, especially the likes of Grohe & Bristan Taps and also provide technical advice for customers when it comes to selecting the best product to fit their needs. The show went so well we are playing with the idea of attending the Grand Designs Live in Birmingham towards the end of the year, so watch this space"

Boundary Bathrooms have been supplying leading named bathroom suites, taps and shower enclosure products such as Aqualux, Heritage & Bristan Showers, via its showrooms in Warrington and Colne for over 50 years. In recent times it has added an e-commerce site to its company dynamic and became part of the Grafton Group PLC in 2007.
