

Enjoy Popular Films at Inverness Film Festival 2011 on 9 to 13 November 2011

The Inverness Film Festival is due to take place from the 9th to the 13th November 2011. This will be the ninth year that the festival, which has been increasing in popularity ever since it began, has been held.

October 17, 2011 (FPRC) -- Visitors are expected from all over the country for the event, which is to be based at Eden Court. The venue is easily reached from most parts of the city. The festival will show a variety of independent movies from both new and established talent.

There are many Inverness city centre hotels within easy reach of Eden Court and the city boasts a wide variety of accommodation, so there is sure to be something to suit every budget. However, as this is a very popular festival Lek Boonlert, DirectRooms.com's Head of Marketing, has suggested that visitors to the city during the time it is being held should ensure that their accommodation is reserved well in advance. Pre-booking will mean there will be less chance of disappointment on arrival in the city.

Anyone visiting the area who would like to enjoy a little sightseeing will find that the public transport system in and around the city is excellent. Public transport, to and from the venue, for visitors staying a little further out of the city is excellent.

A full programme of showings is yet to be published, but further information can be obtained from the organisers website, www.invernessfilmfestival.com, where they will be providing details on how to obtain tickets for the various showings and events.
