

Law Offices of Jeffrey R. Bloom Announces Opening of Rockville Office

The Law Offices of Jeffrey R. Bloom is pleased to announce its new Rockville, MD legal offices, where their lawyers will continue to represent clients in personal injury, car accident, and insurance-related cases.

November 21, 2011 (FPRC) -- The Law Offices of Jeffrey R. Bloom is pleased to announce the opening of its Rockville, MD office located at 6205 Executive Boulevard, Rockville, Maryland 20852. The office is located several blocks from the intersection of Wisconsin Avenue and Old Georgetown road in the North Bethesda/Rockville area.

The Law Offices Jeffrey R. Bloom will continue its general litigation practice primarily in the areas of personal injury, car accident litigation, and civil litigation generally. It is hoped that the new location will better enable the legal firm to assist individuals in the Washington, DC metropolitan area, to include, Montgomery County, Washington, DC, and Prince George's County.

With its emphasis in personal injury matters, the firm ushers car accident victims through the often frustrating process of dealing with insurance companies. The Law Offices of Jeffrey R. Bloom takes a somewhat unique approach to client relations. The firm feels that part of its obligation to its clients is to educate them on the process that they are going through at the beginning so as to ensure that lawyer and client are always on the same page in their approach to the suit. By giving great personal attention to each and every case, the firm feels that it can maximize monetary recoveries while ensuring that its client's expectations are met.

If you need assistance with your personal injury matter, please contact the firm for a FREE consultation with an experienced personal injury attorney.
