

Central Otago Pinot Noir Celebration Present Gourmets in January 2012

DirectRooms.com now confirms that the Central Otago Pinot Noir Celebration will take place once again in Queenstown, New Zealand from 26th – 28th January 2012. This three-day event is well recognised as an important date in the calendar of Pinot Noir aficionados from all over the world.

December 12, 2011 (FPRC) -- The Pinot Noir Celebration, one of the most prominent events in both Queenstown and New Zealand, will be attended by the world's leading wine writers, enthusiasts and food gourmets. This entertaining and informative event brings the wine, cuisine and sights of Central Otago to the fore.

Visitors to the celebration will enjoy tasting sessions highlighting 40 Central Otago wine producers, the opportunity to take part in an optional masterclass and discussion with top winemakers and sampling the finest dishes by the country's top chefs, all in the midst of the stunning scenery of Four Season Lake and Alpine Resort for which Central Otago is justly famous. Attendees will also enjoy visiting Queenstown's fine dining restaurants, wineries and vineyards. The evenings promise to be lively fun-filled experiences too with plenty good bars and clubs.

The cost of attending the full programme is NZ$ 1380.00 and for the masterclass only NZ$ 90.00. A full diary of events, a list of ticket outlets and how to get there is available from the Pinot Celebrations website.

Attendees who wish to stay in a hotel Queenstown City Centre will enjoy the style and convenience of the central Queenstown location in addition to hotels which suit business and leisure requirements with equal flair. Please be advised that the Pinot Celebration is always well attended therefore early booking is recommended.
