Online Jeweler Reports Titanium Bracelets Popular Holiday Gift Item

December 14, 2011 (FPRC) -- Modesto, California, United States – Titanium-Jewelry.com, an online jeweler specializing on contemporary jewelry, reports that titanium bracelets for both men and women have been one of the more popular selling jewelry items this holiday season. Ron Yates, founder and CEO, states, 'Titanium is known for its hypo allergenic qualities, incredible strength and affordability. Especially in a bracelet because of the abuse they can endure on the wrist by being banged around, the durability is very important. And with the price of gold over $1650 per ounce, many shoppers are turning to contemporary metals such as titanium, as the price of a gold bracelet is nearly cost prohibitive.'

Titanium-jewelry.com carries titanium bracelets in a variety of designs from Edward Mirell, the leading titanium jewelry designer and innovator. The selection includes traditional titanium paired with black titanium for a high contrast look, or 14K gold for a blend of metal colors. Also incorporated into titanium bracelets are diamonds, leather accents, and pearls. Traditional titanium link bracelets and titanium cuff bracelets are available as well. Some of their more popular styles are made of the Black Titanium Cable. Titanium is a versatile metal which can be worn from dress to casual, a bracelet is complimentary piece for anyone so the combination is sure to be a classic.

Serving discriminating online jewelry shoppers since 2002, Titanium-Jewelry.com has a reputation for carrying beautiful, award winning pieces that are perfect for men and women looking for both contemporary and classic designs. Recently Titanium-Jewelry was also awarded the Stella Service ELITE badge, only awarded to a few online retailers who provide outstanding customer service. Not only is Titanium-jewelry.com an online jewelry retailer but they also have a physical jewelry store located in Modesto, CA with gemologist and jewelers in house.
