

Tropicalaser Laser Hair Removal Franchise Goes International

Tropicalaser announced that they will be opening several centers in Canada and Mexico in 2012.

January 17, 2012 (FPRC) -- Fueled by a great demand for quality laser hair removal and tattoo removal services, the principals of Tropicalaser have unveiled some of their plans to move into Canada and Mexico during 2012. They said both these countries have been in their radar for a while but now they have the pieces in place to launch openings in 2012. " There is great demand for our services not just in the US but outside as well" said VP of Franchise Development Mark Walker who went on to say " People want to look and feel good everywhere, not just in the US and in the last few years we have been laying down the infrastructure to be able to support franchisees outside the US"

Tropicalaser seems to be in full building and expanding mode and as they are quietly moving into national and international markets with their franchise concept, they are sure to become a formidable competitor for other major players in the industry.
