March 30, 2007 (FPRC) -- The Digital Entertainment Network, one of the Internet's premier entertainment and retail websites is now up and running. The website located at www.tden.com is totally unique in its appearance and does not resemble any other website on the Internet. The site contains 3 shopping malls, a hilarious series of political and satirical humor, a chat room, and useful information about various money making programs such as Google AdSense. A blog forum is in the works as is the addition of more retail and information products.

Important Tools For Website Developers

Website developers can purchase well researched development tools such as the Impact Web Audio Player, a software program that allows you to play any type of audio file directly on a website without having to download it to a media player. Information about superior web hosting, shopping carts, Clickbank Shopping Malls and other website tools are also featured.

Play Music Samples and Download Tracks From Unique Albums

The Digital Entertainment Network presently features 3 music albums from which samples can be played and individual tracks downloaded. They are 1) The Great American Ragtime Revival - This album contains Piano rags by Scott Joplin, James Scott, Tom Turpin and other ragtime composers. Relevant sound effects have been added to various pieces. 2) Classical Interlude - Short but interesting classical pieces played on a synthesizer. 3) Unfinished Business by The Bodega Dragons – Hard Rock and awesome lyrics that sound like Bob Dylan meets AC/DC.

Be sure to check out The Digital Entertainment Network at www.tden.com. You have not seen anything like it on the Internet.
