

DJ Rap Gives a Taste of Synthesis on The Hills

Worlds #1 Female DJ/Producer to release follow up to the multi million selling Learning Curve on Ministry of Sound

November 5, 2009 (FPRC) -- Deck star and exalted Queen of Drum & Bass, Charissa Saverio better known as DJ Rap, is giving fans a sneak peak of her new artist album Synthesis, out on Ministry of Sound February 2010. Though the first single 'Give It All Away' is already receiving massive kudos from critics and DJs alike, it is actually the Rock-edged 'I Just Wanna Feel Good' that will premiere on tonight's episode #516 of MTV's THE HILLS. The track will be available exclusively on Rhapsody (thehills.mtv.com) under Season Five.

Synthesis, a rock-tronic hybrid album is the follow up to the DJ Rap's globally successful Learning Curve. A darker edgier side of DJ Rap, she not only played guitar and piano on the majority of the album, but sung all the vocals as well. So if you are looking for pretty 4 on the floor Disco this is not the release. Take a bit of angst ridden Alanis Morissette, the melodic dreaminess of Imogean Heap and a hint of BT and welcome to Synthesis. The album's first single 'Give It All Away' will be released November 30th on Beatport exclusively with a remix package including Sultan & Ned Shepard, Starkillers, Thomas Sagstad and Metasyn.
