

Home Bar Details Often Glossed Over

Barina Craft, a manufacturer of home bar furniture, announces additional finish choices for the Spring of 2010.

January 15, 2010 (FPRC) -- Dublin, OH - Barina Craft, a manufacturer of home bar furniture, announces additional finish choices for the Spring of 2010. In keeping with the traditional styling of classic wooden boats, Barina Craft's nautically inspired bar furniture is protected with multiple layers of a high gloss top coating on most of the exterior surface areas. While this stunning finish treatment really is eye popping, a softer, toned down appearance may be preferable for some. If this look is too dramatic for the interior design being sought, you may specify semi-gloss or satin to suit your preference. All of these options are beautiful and will allow individual style choices to complement the home's decor and architectural details as desired.

The array of customizable features normally offered continues to grow. The current list of standard options includes several stain choices for both the main and accent areas, selection of wood varieties, flat or countersunk bar tops, starboard or port models, integrated wine rack, stemmed glass wire fixtures, liquor cabinet with safety locks for children, drawer with ball bearing slides, multiple stainless steel fruit pan / dry sink / bottle well configurations, bronze screws, marine cleat handle hardware and much more. Special requests are always welcomed allowing truly unique personalization.

Founded in 2007, Barina Craft's home bars furniture may be purchased directly thru their website at <http://www.barinacraft.com> and is shipped within the contiguous United States. Their home bars incorporate nautical design elements where practical and utilize steam bent solid mahogany and other fine hardwoods in the construction. All furniture is handcrafted by artisans in the USA.
