

Rome Hosts the World Anesthesia Congress 2011

DirectRooms.com can announce that the 2011 World Anesthesia Congress (NWAC) is to be held in Rome over six days.

March 8, 2011 (FPRC) -- The event is to take place at the Marriot Park Hotel from the 11 April 2011, to the 15 April 2011.

Those wishing to attend can register online via the event website and organisers, Fedra, who anticipate a large turn-out once more for the annual conference. Further information can be obtained prior to the event by calling Raffaella Greco at +39 06 522 473 28 or by emailing raffaella.greco@fedracongressi.it.

The Marriot Park Hotel is well equipped for the conference with full facilities and ample parking on-site. The conference will see the key speaker, Dr Andre van Zundert, leading a Comprehensive Airways workshop on the 12 April 2011.

Attendees can also download an event program via the website, which provides full details of speeches, forums and conferences to be held over the six days. Exhibitors are expected to receive a host of benefits from attending the conference, which is highly regarded within the medical field.

Guest staying at any of the Rome hotels can also expect a full social schedule during the six day event, with full details once more available from the conference website. Additional charges apply for those wishing to attend trips to ancient Rome, contemporary art studios, the Sistine chapel, and other organised activities.

Guests can obtain further information on all that the city of Rome has to offer by contacting the tourist information centre direct on turismo@comune.roma.it.
