

Alternative Images Photography Commissioned For Kitchen Design Project

Alternative Images Photography has recently been commissioned again this year by a leading kitchen and bespoke furniture design company based in Buckinghamshire.

October 15, 2012 (FPRC) -- The images taken by Alternative will be used to promote the company on the web and magazine adverts and so will reflect the quality of the products that are to be marketed. High resolution images will be put through a post production process and presented so they are ready for the client to use for their upcoming ad campaign.

The reputable company in question, which services customers in the Slough, Maidenhead, Stoke Poges and Beaconsfield areas, has been established for 25 years and employs three main designers. These individuals design bespoke kitchens to the very highest standards and passionate about designing living areas that enhance a property and are designed to reflect the customer's needs.

The team will always lead the client through the creation of their new room. They aim to ensure that the kitchen will be both aesthetically stunning and also a delight to work in for years to come.

Alternative Images was chosen for the project thanks to its sheer professionalism in fulfilling the client's brief. Corporate photographer Peter Austin and his support team will be on hand to capture the design and installation with a high standard of imagery to communicate the immense detail and quality of the contemporary styles and finishes available from the company.
