April 24, 2013 (FPRC) -- RIVERSIDE, California, United States - PacificPlex, a premier online retailer and fashion leader specializing in formal evening wear and plus size prom dresses has compiled some safety tips for parents of teenagers attending prom this year. Prom night is an exciting time for kids and also parents. Many parents are somewhat apprehensive but there are some things a parent can do to help ensure their child's safety.

Talk to your child about what their plans are, who will they be with. Call the other parents before Prom night to discuss the plans to make sure everyone is on the same page. It is especially important talk to the parents of whoever is driving. Make sure your child has a back up plan for a driver incase alcohol becomes involved. Check in with your child periodically and speak to them on the phone, not just through text. Encourage your child to attend an after prom party and think about hosting the party yourself. That way you know where your child will be and whom they will be with.

PacificPlex allows its users the luxury of shopping online and browsing the continuous expansion of its collection of long prom dresses. The assortments of clothing are of top-of-the-line quality, and are the latest in the fashion industry.
