June 21, 2013 (FPRC) -- Just Orbit, which is a highly popular travel planning site has taken a step forward in reaching out to its many users and has launched the mobile version <http://m.justorbit.com> .The mobile site of Just Orbit has all the exciting features like city reviews, hotel details, list of cities that can be visited from a place and others which the users have time and again rated to be very handy and useful.

Just a few add-ons like the Virtual Travel Map may not be accessible from the mobile phones at the moment but that should not really make any difference as with the other features like suggestions on nearby cities to visit and reviews of hotels and tourist attractions, travel planning any which way becomes a child's play.

Just Orbit with its mobile site <http://m.justorbit.com> will thus now be with its users 24/7, round the world as now mobiles have become the most important accessories that people hardly leave home without. With smart phones and mobile devices having become smarter than ever even Just Orbit has integrated its services with the smart devices in an effort to give its users an experience of a personal travel guide who is there to guide and plan all along.

As Mr. Raj Narang, the founder of the revolutionary site www.justorbit.com says, ' With the mobile site we want to ensure that the travelers need not even flinch a brow worrying about where, how and when to go while travelling as all the answers to their questions will be available right in their handsets. A mobile travel guide is what we aim to present to our many satisfied users'.

Travelers can therefore now leave all their travel planning worries to Just Orbit as with their holistic approach towards customers support and satisfaction, team Just Orbit simply aims and even functions to stand by its users through all terrains.
