For the third time, John Palmer Art has secured an esteemed annual Corporate Sponsor for its fast-growing art business. Griffin Realty of Houston, Texas brings energy, vast knowledge and a slew of new connections to Palmer's high-end art company.

January 12, 2015 (FPRC) -- Griffin Realty & Associates, a growing real estate company of Houston, Texas, has aligned with Artist John Ross Palmer by becoming his Houston Heights Art Gallery's Corporate Sponsor for 2015. The mutually beneficial partnership is the third for Palmer and the first for Griffin Realty. For Palmer, having his gallery associated with such a promising group of businesspersons adds tremendous credibility to his ever-growing artist career.

"I am absolutely thrilled to be this year's Corporate Sponsor for John Palmer Art. I believe John is a brilliant artist with an equally sound mind for business," says Griffin. "I love his passion and connect with his vitality. I can see how his collectors are drawn to him and I hope to capitalize and bring that energy towards our partnership." Palmer explains, "Amber and I have a common bond in our businesses: the family residence. She helps people to establish roots by placing them in a warm home--while I provide them with artwork to enhance the beauty and value of these houses. By teaming up, John Palmer Art and Griffin Realty will benefit and flourish together." Griffin, a native Houstonian just like Palmer, is emboldened by the artist's charisma, "Not only will my Houston real estate business be advertised to his art enthusiasts, but, I will also benefit by serving my local community as a tried-and-true patron of a Houston artist that is devoted to forever destroying the stereotype of the struggling artist."
