

Richard Heard New Book Dragon Faith Explores the Possibilities of Human Imposed Microchipping

Pennsylvania Governor Thomas Russell is newly elected. His goal is to make a splash. He enacts the protection act bill into law. The law is put into place to stop identity theft. However, the bill is sinister.

January 27, 2015 (FPRC) -- The Sandy Family prepares for the thanksgiving holiday. Seventeen year old Elroy Sandy and parents are a few days way from picking up big sister Bria to celebrate the feast holiday. But strange things start to occur. Elroy and his trusted German Sheppard Biff are alarmed by noises in his backyard area. They come downstairs to investigate. They illuminate the shed kitchen. Biff mouth waters as he barks uncontrollably. Someone is lying outside on the ground. It's Mr. Clark, the Sandy's next door neighbor. The cops are called in. Is he dead? This happening sets up this story of deception and lies. The youngest boy, headed to University, holds the families faith together. They endure a massive rain and wind storm.

Then, a innocent looking announcement by a new Governor would change their lives forever. An anti identity theft bill labeled 'The Protection Act' isn't. The bill summons all Pennsylvanians on the selected dates, to arrive for their screening. Fingerprint analysis and microchip implementation are mandatory for the new financial world systems. Whoever doesn't conform will be punished.

The Sandy's letter to appear is the day after thanksgiving. David Sandy, a divorce lawyer, calls his civil rights attorney buddy Tony Pittman for help. Tony works fast and hard to get a temporary delay through the constitutional laws. When Tony establishes the delay the family has already arrived to the large cold isolated building on Washington Lane. The reports in and immediately and respectfully tell the receptionist they're refusing the laws commands. They are ruffed up and seized by guards. A cavernous courtroom awaits with a bloodshot eyed judge. This family has just stepped into pure evil.

If they don't accept the chip punishment will be swift for this wholesome family.

Contact Information

For more information contact Richard Heard of <http://manwrit.wix.com/dragon-faith>
(<http://manwrit.wix.com/dragon-faith>)
215-626-6126

Keywords

books
Dragon
mysteries

You can read this press release online here