

Transworldhotel.com Arrives in the United Kingdom to Simplify Transportation Booking in Spain

Booking private transportation or taxis in Spain will no longer be an issue for residents of the United Kingdom with the arrival of Transworldhotel, a company with a long track record in Spain, which now transfers its know-how and call centre to the UK with the purpose of improving and simplifying bookings for British citizens.

May 1, 2016 (FPRC) --

Transworldhotel.com is a company that manages taxis and private transportation at the main airports and cities in Spain, including Alicante, Benidorm, Palma de Mallorca, Tenerife, Madrid, Barcelona, Almeria and Murcia among others, whose main attribute is the quality, professionalism and discreteness of its service, with a candid and courteous treatment.

This company allows you to book standard, Premium (Mercedes E-Class), VIP (Mercedes S-Class), Minivan, Minibus and private bus transportation, all of this on new, comfortable vehicles with few years of use.

All Transworldhotel.com services include, at no extra charge, pick-up at the airport in the arrivals hall itself and holding a sign with your name, help with your luggage, no extra charges regardless of method of payment, with all fares being final at origin; with no unpleasant surprises, no lines and no delays. Your vehicle is available upon your arrival at the airport.

At their website you can quote all sorts of routes online and immediately, and of course, make your booking with immediate confirmation. In its private section you may download the invoices for your services and your transfer vouchers.

In addition, the company offers personalized services tailored to the customer for the booking of chauffeured cars with hourly, daily or event-specific availability, with the highest guarantee of service and impeccable treatment. They will adapt to your needs: Conventions, meetings, tours, special events... anything the customer may need.

The current transport-booking market is in disarray, with brokers booking transportation for their customers without knowing where they will end up or who will be doing the actual transportation. Transworldhotel.com arrives in the UK to solve this problem, since its extensive knowledge of the industry is now joined by the arrival of its customer service staff in the United Kingdom to make contact with customers more personal.

Undoubtedly, the arrival of Transworldhotel.com in UK's market is good news, since it will accommodate for a wide range of people who need a quality service for taxi bookings in Spain to avoid scams and improve the overall quality of the trip. Welcome!
