

Thermalabs Launches New 'Life is better in Flip Flops' Beach T-shirt

Cosmetics firm Thermalabs has launched its Life is better in Flip Flops T-shirt on Amazon.com

October 25, 2016 (FPRC) -- Thermalabs has introduced a 'Life is better in flip flops' T-shirt barely a week after it launched its first-ever article of clothing meant for the beach. The company seems to be investing in its portfolio of beach-related products. This is an interesting development for beach-goers and Thermalabs fanatics from all over the world. Earlier this year, the company had promised to increase its focus on beach-convenience products.

Thermalabs is an innovative American firm and it appears to have hit the jackpot with its range of skin care products. The company is the top producer of the best-rated tanning products. Thermalabs opened its doors some three years ago with a huge achievable budget. Thermalabs initial launch was a lotion that delivered a beautiful sun kissed glow within 4 hours which was a great achievement for the company. Thermalabs first product was a major hit in the market and won several trending products brand names from Amazon. Thermalabs has various divisions each assigned to its market roles and ingredients used to design that particular product. Thermalabs organic healthcare products are strictly handmade and designed from organic and natural ingredients.

The company has continued to venture into the beach related industry, but it has also somehow drifted from the self-tanning space. This year Thermalabs has introduced at least 5 beach related products but it has not released any self-tanner in the same period of time. The first beach product ever released by Thermalabs was Mercury beach tent which was a big time hit in the market. This tent served as a hiding place after having some fun in the water. The tent is equipped with UV protection and had extra comfy bottoms for kids. The company has said that it's considering to change its slogan from tanning reloaded to 'life's a beach' The company has also said that its finalizing work on its beach chairs which are most likely to be the best hit in the market.

The Life is better in flip flops T-shirts are available in various colors such as yellow, black, red and blue. The company has creatively given each T-shirt a fascinating image label and text that is compatible with the beach environment something that draws many people's attention .The T-shirts are available in multiple sizes for children, women, and men. The T-shirt is 100% cotton and can be machine washed at a dry low heat.

Thermalabs has said that the Life is better in flip flops T-shirt will be available to customers via Amazon.com. Interested customers can also order the new beach t-shirt at Thermalabs official website - <http://www.thermalabs.com/home/>.
