Seattle area based Washington Natural Gas Heating & Air Conditioning is celebrating their 10 Anniversary, which commemorates 10 challenging but successful years in business. This is a huge milestone for the Mill Creek, WA and service Seattle metro area, King and Snohomish Counties-based Residential HVAC contractor business, which has provided Residential HVAC contractor to residential hvac customers since 2006.

Washington Natural Gas Heating & Air Conditioning got it's start in 2006 when founder Michael Fahmie tired of seeing HVAC companies and contractors get away with outrageous pricing and low quality of work. He decided to start his own company and treat clients the way he would like to be treated.

One of the earliest challenges Washington Natural Gas Heating & Air Conditioning faced was Like any customer based business getting out to every home as quickly as possible to assist the customer can be challenging during HVAC emergencies.

While every business of course faces challenges, some, like Washington Natural Gas Heating & Air Conditioning are fortunate enough to enjoy real successes, wins and victories too. Once such victory came when Was able to conduct a job on a elderly gentleman's home who was quoted a price that was just astronomical, the client was able to save nearly 65% off the cost of the competition. Its times like that which makes this business worthwhile and helpful to people. Another challenge was being able to service all the various types of heating and cooling systems and then value added services such as hvac duct cleaning Seattle.

John Palmer, Comfort Advisor at Washington Natural Gas Heating & Air Conditioning was also quoted when discussing another big win. "One of the high points of Washington Natural Gas Heating & Air Conditioning's history so far is that the company is still thriving and successfully growing it's reputation and client base year over year for the past 10 years. This is what has made WA Natural Gas Heating & Air Conditioning one of the top air conditioning companies seattle"

Washington Natural Gas Heating & Air Conditioning's Founder, Michael Fahmie says "We're delighted to be celebrating our 10 Year Anniversary. I believe the secret to getting this far in business today is Build what the customer needs to sustain the life of the home".

Washington Natural Gas Heating & Air Conditioning currently consists of 9 employees and has big plans for the upcoming year. One of their core objectives is To provide professional heating, cooling and air quality services and installations, to maintain happy customers with a comfortable home without callbacks. Repairs: On furnaces, heat pumps, tankless water heaters, air conditioning, air filtration systems, standard water heaters, and more. Most parts are kept in stock on the trucks to complete the repairs the first time out to the home, saving time, money and aggravation. Appointments with clients are set in a tighter window of time so the clients are not forced to wait at their homes all day.

Washington Natural Gas Heating & Air Conditioning would also like to thank friends, customers and all its partners for their well wishes on this happy occasion.
