"One of the reasons we purchased the Titan 875 was to benefit our current list of clients and to gain new clients," stated Linton Becker, owner of Linton's Carpet Cleaning. "With the 875 we can use up to three cleaning attachments at the same time, which helps us clean faster, thus resulting in less time on the job and less inconvenience and disruption to our clients."

Becker also mentioned that the Titan 875 will be used on water damage restoration jobs because of the enormous vacuum system the 875 has. With water damage restoration maximum water removal is critical to a successful job and the Titan 875 will be able to handle difficult water extraction jobs, both in the residential and commercial environment. "The Titan 875 really helps with water damage work because of the ability to successfully extract large amounts of water that many other machines just cannot extract," mentioned Becker. "We can get to tough residential and commercial water damage jobs with long hose runs because of the power of the machine. This allows us to serve our clients with a high level of restoration work."
