Navartis has recreated its online presence to include a brand-new client area and new features for candidates, to make white collar technical recruitment the best it can be. Doncaster, United Kingdom - January 12, 2017 /MarketersMedia/ -- Navartis Ltd is specialist project focused Recruitment Company headquartered in Doncaster, United Kingdom. The company has gone from strength to strength, and is currently expanding rapidly at both their Doncaster and London offices. They are already recruiting senior recruitment consultants, managing consultants and business support managers to help accommodate their explosion in growth in the UK and Europe which is expected to reach £31 million in turnover in 2017. The company has not forgotten its users during this time, and has just relaunched their website with the intention of providing a better online experience for both mobile and desktop users.

Navartis operates in the Civil Engineering, Construction, Power and Rail industries helping job candidates searching for popular infrastructure job vacancies and clients looking to deliver major projects. The new site itself brings a breath of fresh air to the online recruitment world by looking bright, energized and thoroughly modern. As well as being fully responsive, the new site incorporates multi-media video, slide shows and high quality imagery, so the visual look and feel of the site matches the business' dynamic approach.

Supplying highly skilled technical and management professionals, typical jobs offered on the site include highly skilled quantity surveyors, civil engineers, site managers, estimators, design engineers, health and safety advisors and more. The jobs themselves are available not only in the UK, but throughout Europe and Asia. Navartis Recruitment employment opportunities in the form of directly advertised senior and managing consultant jobs in addition to an industry leading graduate and trainee recruitment scheme for new recruits are also featured.

A spokesperson for Navartis explained, "We are thrilled to be able to connect people with the ideal job for them, and we are excited to have seen such strong success in the field up to this point. As we undertake our own recruitment, we have simultaneously revolutionized our online experience, ensuring our existing and future clients get the very best from the site. The changes allow for more and better applications, superior candidate sorting and management, and more. We are excited to see where 2017 takes us."

About Navartis: Navartis specialise in white collar technical recruitment for the Rail, Civil Engineering and Power industries both in the UK and Internationally, throughout Europe and the Middle East. Their dedicated team has a culture of honesty, integrity, transparency and fairness, and is passionate about pushing boundaries to improve services to both clients and candidates.
