

Thermalabs to Ship a Premium Use-Focused Cosmetics Guide with Its Tanning Mitt

Thermalabs has said that it will now ship an information-rich, pro cosmetics guide with its tanning mitt.

February 7, 2017 (FPRC) -- Thermalabs, a global cosmetics brand based in the City of New York, has said that it'll include a free, premium tanning guide with one of its most popular products – the Ultimitt Tanning Mitt. According to the company, this is one of many moves the company is making to educate users in the cosmetics industry. The company has also published an in-depth tanning guide, which users can either buy online or request for free from Thermalabs official website – www.thermalabs.com.

Thermalabs is a leading American cosmetics bigwig that made its name in the tanning niche due to its production of top-notch lotions and accessories. To date, the company has supplied the tanning market with over 20 different lotions and pro accessories. Some of the most popular releases in this space include the company's original self-tanner, the Ultimitt tan applicator mitt, the Glow2Go tanning wipes. Of late, Thermalabs has also expanded to cover other market areas. The company started producing beach-related products back in 2015, introducing a range of beach T-shirts, beach tents, and beach chairs under an umbrella sub-brand known as 'Tent World'. More recently, the company also introduced Organic Healthcare, its new brand that will be in charge of new healthcare products created using 100% natural ingredients. Thermalabs Organic Healthcare will be centered in Israel's Galilee district, where a team of seasoned artisans will hand-make a range of health-boosting products.

Thermalabs Ultimitt tanning mitt was the company's second-ever release, introduced to the market back in 2013. The product was created after the company conducted a wide-ranging survey and established that consumers were dissatisfied with most mitts available in the market. Taking initiative, the company created a bigger, better and longer-lasting mitt that could work with lotions and tanners from all brands. The product was an instant success story, selling thousands of units in week one. To date, the Ultimitt tanning mitt remains one of the most popular products of its kind, especially in major online retail marketplaces. The product's popularity is probably why the company decided to ship its free guide with it.

Thermalabs new in-depth guide will explain how people can make the best out of the Ultimitt, and properly use tanners and lotions to minimize wastage and maximize efficiency. Through this guide, the company offers some useful tips that cosmetic buffs can use to better utilize common products while saving money in the long-term.
