iPRO Network, a Direct Selling Company, providing digital educational courses in e-commerce, day trading and several other categories in the online space, is launching it's online shopping portal, offering rebates for purchases made from big-name retailers, with rebates being paid in "PRO" Cryptocurrency. Seattle, WA, United States - April 13, 2017 /MarketersMedia/ -- iPRO Network, based out of the United Kingdom, is taking an unprecedented approach to increase awareness and usability of one of the newest decentralized Global Cryptocurrencies called "PRO". PRO Commerce, launched its initial Coin Offering "ICO", back in January, 2017, raising over $80K in funding. PRO Commerce announced their plans to provide both, Apps, and an E-commerce platform where retailers can easily offer products, and consumers can easily utilize "PRO" as a form of payment for products and services.

iPRO Network, is one of the marketing arms for Pro Commerce, and whose primary function is to rapidly raise Global awareness and help create usability for PRO Cryptocurrency. iPRO Network plans to use Direct Selling as the method for building a Global Distribution Network, and is rewarding Reps with a combination of USD Currency and "PRO" Cryptocurrency, for sales and purchases of iPRO products and services, as well as giving rebates in the form of PRO Cryptocurrency, for purchases made from Big-Box Retailers.

PRO Commerce plans to offer Customers and Reps easy access to download PRO Apps that will soon be available for both Apple, and Android devices, where products and services can be purchased from thousands of well known Global Retailers. The apps will be launched in two phases, with phase one providing a gateway for the masses to adopt Cryptocurrency into their everyday life, with the consumer app called "PRO Rebates", and the merchant app called "PRO Solutions". Phase two, will enhance the way that people use and exchange Cryptocurrency in a simple way, with the consumer app called "PRO Exchange" and the merchant app called "PRO Merchant".

On the distribution side, Direct Marketing Professionals are quickly taking note of iPRO Network, including Veteran Internet Marketers like Eric Grant and Chris Cartmill, who have co-created many online marketing funnels over the past several years. Eric Grant, a serial entrepreneur, and who is the founder of the search engine ranking service ZippyRank.com, has a 20 year background in network marketing and home business. Chris Cartmill has an extensive 15 year background in SEO and SEM. The two teamed up several years ago to create a better way to reach out to other Networkers, and individuals interested in making money from home. The two have built several sales networks into the multiple thousands of individuals, by utilizing their online skills and methods. Connect with Eric Grant

More about PRO, taken from the Pro Commerce website:

"When consumers shop at some of their favorite online retailers and receive PRO through the Coin Back Rewards platform they will become speculators. Once they understand the power of decentralized Cryptocurrency they will discover why Cryptocurrency is far more exciting than traditional cash back. PRO is social. PRO is disruptive. PRO is the Future of Commerce.

PRO - Professional Retail Offering

We all understand speculation is not enough and participation is what gives a currency long term sustainability. We focus on solutions for consumers and businesses by rewarding them for utilizing Cryptocurrency in their everyday life. PRO's platform is a simple way for the masses to experience Cryptocurrency without it seeming overly complicated. PRO is the gateway to Cryptocurrency. PRO aims to be one of the most recognized mainstream coins through our 2 phase system. Our apps are designed to turn spectators into speculators in a simple way. We are continuing to build lasting relationships and grow community involvement in blockchain technology. Participate in the PRO movement today."
