Zephyrhills, United States - April 25, 2017 /PressCable/ -- Professional ophthalmologist Dr. Edward Kondrot of the Healing the Eye and Wellness Center in Zephyrhills, Florida, announced a wide range of alternative treatments to help patients in Zephyrhills, Tampa Bay and other areas reduce vision loss resulting from macular degeneration and glaucoma. More information can be found at http://healingtheeye.com.

Macular degeneration is the leading cause of blindness in people over 65, being a frequent disease affecting the central region of the retina called the macula. The disease is more frequent in elderly patients, but, if favored by genetic factors, it can also occur in younger patients. Among the most common risk factors are hypertension, arteriosclerotic vascular disease and diabetes.

Glaucoma is also a common disease which, if left untreated, often results in blindness. This disease is caused by increased intraocular pressure resulting in optic nerve damage.

Dr. Kondrot has extensive experience providing alternative glaucoma and macular degeneration treatment for a wide range of patients. The Zephyrhills doctor uses alternative therapies to treat these eye disorders, including nutritional microcurrent, oxidative and light therapies.

Dr. Kondrot believes in a holistic approach to eye treatment, with his treatment protocols being part of a comprehensive program for all ocular disease processes. According to him, eye health needs to be repositioned within an assessment of general health, as vision decline often represents a general diminishment in overall wellbeing. Eye conditions often result directly from toxicity from both external sources such as air and water, and internal accumulations of toxic metals, poor nutrition, and other unhealthy habits.

The Zephyrhills doctor believes that the eye is likely to be the first part of the body to signal overall health problems, so he recommends that eye health assessment become part of an overall health evaluation rather than compartmentalized to specialists.
