

Thermalabs Air Launches Budget Airbrushing System

Thermalabs Air has introduced a new series of budget airbrushing machines

May 27, 2017 (FPRC) -- Thermalabs Air has introduced Samana, a 3-machine series of budget airbrushing systems. Thermalabs Air is a leading provider of airbrushing systems and accessories. Including the latest three machines, the company has furnished the market with an extensive range of 9 airbrushing systems and accessories. Thermalabs Air has said that it's committed to providing for the needs of the global airbrushing market. The company has also been working to expand its products to Europe's and other market geography's outside its traditional U.S. base.

The new Samana series is available in three different machines, each of which is meant for a specific purpose. These machines are the Samana Art Professional Airbrush System, the Samana Make-up System, and the Samana Spray Tan system. Samana Art is designed for all art related applications such as nail art, body art, tattooing, and more.

On the other hand, Samana make-up is built for use with any make up application needs. The machine disperses and extremely fine makeup mist through an airbrush gun. Millions of tiny particles are spread on the skin and layered together, creating a net that leaves your face looking unnoticeably good. The machine is built with the needs of the professional makeup artist in mind. The system can be used with makeups from all brands, which makes it a versatile piece of equipment for makeup application.

The Samana Spray Tan system, the third machine, is built to serve the market's spray tanning needs. This particular machine works with an extensive range of spray tanner brands. It dispenses a well-layered tanner mist that spreads on your skin within 15 minutes and delivers a ready-to-go glow. The fact that spray tanning delivers results much faster (within just 15 minutes) compared to lotion-tanning that needs up to 4 hours for results has made it more popular nowadays. According to Thermalabs Air, this machine is a must-have for people who are worried about paying monthly subscription plans at a tanning salon.

In addition to these three new systems, Thermalabs Air also has Inagua series, a more expensive line of airbrushing machines that's also available in a 3-system bundle. The firm provides spray tanning tents for use when tanning with any of these machines. According to Alex Howard, a company insider, the firm is also looking to create more systems in the coming months and years.

The move to launch this 3-system set of budget airbrushing systems will perhaps lead to increased sales and brand awareness for a company that's already doing great in the market.
